25. GENERAL AND INTERPRETATION

25.1 The Parties agree that each Party, its employees, agents or subcontractors shall remain independent from the other Party and that nothing in the Contract shall be deemed to constitute a partnership, joint venture, agency relationship or otherwise between the Parties.

25.2 References to "writing" or "written" includes any hand-written, typewritten, facsimile or e-mail communications.

25.3 No indulgence granted by either Party to the other shall constitute a waiver of any of that Party's rights under the Contract; accordingly, that Party shall not be precluded, as a consequence of having granted such indulgence, from exercising any rights against the other Party which may have arisen in the past or which may arise in the future.

25.4 The failure by either Party to enforce any provision of the Contract shall not affect in any way that Party's right to require performance of the provision at any time in the future, nor shall the waiver of any subsequent breach nullify the effectiveness of the provision itself.

25.5 No variation or termination of the Contract will be valid or effective unless recorded in writing and signed by the Customer and duly authorised signatories of Barloworld.

25.6 The provisions in clauses 3 shall, by way of stipulatio alteri, constitute a contract for the benefit of each Indemnified Party which shall be capable of acceptance at any time by any such Indemnified Party by written notice to that effect to the Customer. Prior to acceptance, the benefit of the stipulation may not be withdrawn by the Customer without the written consent of Barloworld.

25.7 Termination and/or cancellation of the Contract for any cause shall not release a Party from any liability which at the time of termination and/or cancellation has already accrued to such Party or which thereafter may accrue in respect of any act or omission prior to such termination and/or cancellation.

25.8 No remedy conferred by the Contract is intended to be exclusive of any other remedy which is otherwise available at law, by statute or otherwise. Each remedy shall be cumulative and in addition to every other remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law, by statute or otherwise. The election of any one or more remedy by either Party shall not constitute a waiver by such Party of the right to pursue any other remedy.

25.9 All clauses in the Contract should be read, as far as possible, in conformity with the applicable law. To the extent that this is not possible, any void, illegal or unenforceable provision of the Contract which is not material to its efficacy as a whole may be severed and the remaining provisions of the Contract will remain of full force and effect and the Parties shall endeavour in good faith to agree an alternative provision to the void, illegal or unenforceable provision. Any provision of the Contract held to be void, invalid or unenforceable only in part or degree will remain in full force and effect to the extent not held void, invalid or unenforceable.

25.10 A reference to the singular includes the plural and vice versa and a reference to any particular gender includes the other gender and the neuter.

- 25.13 Any notice period will be calculated by excluding the 1st (first) day and including the last day thereof.
- 25.14 A reference to any law means that law as it applies on the date a Contract is concluded and as that law is amended or replaced from time to time thereafter.
- 25.15 All headings in the Contract are inserted for convenience only and must not be taken into account when interpreting the Contract.
- 25.16 Words or expressions defined in any particular clause in a Contract must bear the meaning so assigned to them throughout the Contract unless the context indicates otherwise.
- 25.17 Where an expression has been defined in the Contract and that definition contains a provision conferring a right or imposing an obligation on any Party, then notwithstanding that it is contained only in a definition, effect must be given to that provision as if it were a substantive provision.
- 25.18 The eiusdem generis rule does not apply so that whenever specific words of a particular class are used in conjunction with general words then the specific words must not limit the scope of the general words. If any provision is followed by the word “including” and specific examples, such examples must not be construed so as to limit the general ambit of the provision concerned.
- 25.19 No provision in the Contract will be interpreted for or against either Party because that party or its legal counsel drafted such provision and the contra proferentem rule of construction shall have no application to the construction, interpretation or adjudication of these Conditions.
- 25.20 The termination and/or cancellation of a Contract does not affect those of its provisions which expressly provide that they will operate after termination, or which must continue to have effect after termination and/or cancellation, or which must by implication continue to have effect after termination and/or cancellation.
